

On a daily basis over

people text us for support.

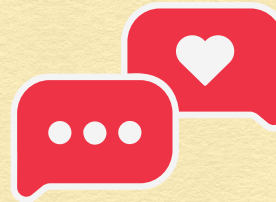

65%

of texters contact us because they did not have anyone else to talk to.

Every year, we take over

1,000,000

conversations with people in crisis.

We have taken over

40,000

conversations in Spanish to date.

For every crisis our volunteers support via text, they prevent at least another one in their own communities, typically among their friends, families, and coworkers; sometimes even people they just met.
